

Example Nomination

I am delighted to nominate Mary Magnet as I find her to have all the qualities that make an excellent nurse; she is intelligent, compassionate, and relentless in obtaining the best possible outcomes for her patients. She treats each one of her patients as if they are a family member, even those who are difficult. She has the unique ability to unravel and troubleshoot while finding a solution. She is an advocate for her patients, from the moment she arrives on the floor until she leaves in the evening. She listens to her colleagues when they are having a difficult day, and they walk away knowing that she heard them and cares. She is detail oriented and orchestrates her patients care by communicating with the necessary disciplines so that her patients will achieve the very best outcome. She does all of this with a smile and an infectious upbeat attitude. She is always looking toward improving her skills and broadening her scope of practice.

Everyone with whom she works praises her ability to create an environment that is collaborative, open, and welcoming. She treats everyone as equals, and values the contribution of all staff equally. She leads by example, and she raises the level of care on 6 West just by being herself. Mention her name to anyone on 6 West and they will be smile and say "I love working with Mary Magnet" every time.

Mary Magnet is our Unit Based Council Chair and a member of Nursing Professional Practice & Quality Council. We are proud to have her represent our unit and appreciate her continued contributions to patient care. She makes me proud to not only be a nurse, but to work at Eisenhower Health. She sincerely deserves to be recognized for all she is and does for Eisenhower's patients, her peers, and for the nursing profession.
